10th February, 2018

Hi All,

In the ten years or so that the e-letter has been running it has never ceased to amaze me how many items of news are constantly being generated within our parish, on a weekly basis.

There are very, very few weeks of the year when an e-letter is not fully justified.

This week underlines this. It is 'packed' with new items. Of course not everything will be of interest to everyone, but it needs no more than a glance to identify what interests you.

But before we get to the news items I would like to draw your attention to two lovely pictures of birds, which are now brightening up the Home and the Notice board pages of the Parish Web site, thanks Ann Cook and Liz Earl. What clever and skilful photographers they are. Well worth a moments diversion to admire.

The George project is back in the news-read the latest bulletin!

So is a new book by Stewart Binns. The Parish Council Portal page is also well worth a visit. Unfortunately next Saturday's Parish Council Surgery has had to be postponed, but that is not the only news.

You may notice an increasing amount of links to our other information vehicles , such as the Winsham Community Facebook page and the Twitter feed. These have the practical effect of getting more news to you about more things more quickly. A symbiotic association which works to everyone's benefit.

I am now going to watch the cricket!

Cheers,

John
